

SKK GSB

Graduate School of Business

Assistant/Associate/Full Professor of Decision Sciences (Full Time, Tenure Track):

SKK GSB (Seoul, Korea) invites applications for tenure-track positions in decision sciences at any rank beginning Fall 2021. All instructions are conducted in English and knowledge of Korean is not required. Candidates in all areas of operations management, supply chain management, and related fields are encouraged to apply. First round interviews will be conducted via Zoom, qualifying candidates will be invited for campus visit in Spring.

The school offers highly competitive US salaries with attractive support for summer research, off-campus housing, tuition at international school for children, medical insurance, and relocation expenses. Teaching load is low and there are minimal service requirements. The school also provides generous research and travel grants and conference funding. Depending on the tax treaty between your home country and Korea, candidates may be exempt from Korean income tax for a period of two years. The majority of SKK GSB faculty are internationally based and all received their Ph.D. degrees from top-ranked business schools around the world and publish in top journals.

All candidates must have a doctoral degree in related fields prior to appointment. Applicants should demonstrate a strong commitment to excellence in research and teaching. Emphasis will be placed on the quality of the applicant's research output. Proven teaching track record is highly desirable.

About the School:

Sungkyunkwan University (SKKU) is a top-ranked comprehensive private university in Asia with 600 years of history. Set against the rich tradition of SKKU, SKK GSB (not affiliated with SKKU School of Business) is an AACSB accredited business school that admitted its first MBA class in 2004. Despite its short history, SKK GSB has been recognized as the #1 MBA program in Korea (#54 in the world) by the most recent Financial Times' annual Global MBA rankings. We have a diverse MBA class with students coming from over 25 different countries in Asia, Europe, Africa, and North and South America. The school currently offers dual-degree MBA and EMBA programs with Kelley School of Business, Indiana University.

SKK GSB is in a building with world-class teaching facilities, office spaces, and a behavioral lab. The physical environment around the school also provides an extensive set of cultural and leisure opportunities. Seoul, the capital city of Korea, is rich with historical heritage and attractions of various kinds. The specific area around the school is the center of major cultural facilities in Seoul and has an abundance of beautiful art galleries and wonderful restaurants.
